

CITIZENS HAVE CHANCE TO INSPECT HIGH SCHOOL

LEADERS IN PRISON RIOT FACE DEATH

Murder Charges Will Be Preferred N. Y. Official Says

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 12—(AP)—Three hundred armed men patrolled the walls and corridors of Auburn prison today after a day of rioting in which eight convicts and the head keeper were killed.

The outbreak, the second within five months, collapsed when state police in a spectacular dash rescued Warden Edgar S. Jennings and seven guards held as hostages by the rioters.

The dead:

Principal Keeper George A. Dunford.

Perry Johnson, sentenced to life for Alex Tucholka, sentenced to life imprisonment. Steve Pawlak, sentenced to double life imprisonment. Stephen Sporning, sentenced to 15 to 16 years. Duke J. Bonnell, serving two sentences, 25 to 30 years and 5 to 10 years. Henry Sullivan, serving 20 to 21 years with an additional seven years for escaping from Auburn last March. Ernest Pavetti, sentenced to 40 years. James Biancass.

Face Murder Charges

Those of the rioters who did not die in the hall of police and guard bullets, Dr. Raymond E. Klob, State Commissioner of Correction, said would undoubtedly find themselves faced with charges of murder, first degree. These men, he said, were implicated in a killing during the commission of a felony—attempting to escape from a prison. Conviction on this count, he said, meant death.

The plan for escape came nearest to realization when the desperadoes captured Warden Jennings and seven guards. With the snatching of the Warden and his fellow officials from this imprisonment within their own prison, the well laid scheme first began to crumble.

These officials, in the hands of the ring leaders for more than two hours, were rescued by a determined onslaught of state troopers armed with tear gas bombs. The Warden himself credited the outstanding bravery of a state policeman for the rescue.

Jennings was dazed by a blow on the head from a convict's pistol butt, and was badly gassed.

Spectacular Dash

Fifteen to twenty convicts were in charge of the prison for more than five hours before the spectacular dash of the troopers at 5:30 P. M. saved the day.

Any possible ardor for further rioting was chilled by a night spent in a prison through which winter winds whistled. Glass in the cell block windows was shattered by bullets in the day's fighting.

Warden Jennings was captured about 11 o'clock in the morning when he went into the heart of the prison to investigate a report that "something was doing." Returning from the kitchen, he was met by a convict who shoved a gun into his stomach and said "do not move or say anything. Warden, or I will kill you."

Two other convicts quickly stepped to his side. "The first convict then commanded, 'Just come with me. Warden. We want you to accompany us to the punishment gallery and you will have to cover us, or we will kill you.'" Jennings went along.

Officers Handcuffed

Three other guards, not knowing the Warden was a hostage, were captured when they approached the group in the punishment gallery. They were forced to open all the punishment cells, releasing the other most desperate inmates. The officers were handcuffed to each other.

With the barricaded position cleaned out the state troopers and prison guards turned their attention to the other prisoners, numbering about 1,500, who had remained passive but restless during the riot. During most of the time they had been in the prison yard with only the machine guns of the state police between them and freedom. They were returned to their cells without trouble, however.

During the several fights that marked the day's disorder several guards were wounded and ceased. George E. Atkins was shot in the face on a back and probably fatally wounded. James F. Van Heusen was shot in the eye. Albert C. Holzhauser was shot in the mouth. In addition to the Warden those who suffered from gas were Claude R. Dempsey, Walter Paley, Lucius Huginin and Milton J. Riker.

Dunford was shot at the inception of the riot when he resisted an attempt by three convicts to seize and hold him as a hostage.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

ATTENDED TO BAR.

Among a class of 34 members admitted to the bar by the Illinois Supreme Court today was O. Clarke Taubeneck of Amboy.

STATE OFFICER HERE.

Frank Channing, superintendent of animal husbandry in the state Department of Agriculture, spent several days this week inspecting stock at the Dixon state hospital.

NAMES ROCHELLE WOMAN.

Reports from Springfield today announced the appointment by Governor Louis L. Emmerson of Mrs. Stephen Kennedy of Rochelle, well known in Dixon, as a member of the state Board of Public Welfare. Mrs. Kennedy has been active in welfare work for several years and her many friends were pleased with the news of her appointment. She will enter upon her official duties Dec. 16.

CAR WAS ABANDONED.

A Studebaker sedan bearing Illinois license plates issued to Roy Davis of Springfield, was towed to an Amboy garage this morning, the car having been abandoned some time Tuesday on a side road south and west of Amboy. Deputy Sheriff Spencer of Amboy was investigating the presence of chicken feathers in the rear of the car and tracing the ownership of the sedan. The plates were fastened on with baling wire.

PLAN SCOUT MEETINGS.

Meetings of Scoutmasters, committeemen, institution heads and all men interested in Scouting will be held at the high school gymnasium in Dixon, Jan. 8, 15, 22, 29 and Feb. 5 for the promoting Scouting in the community and to learn the "how" of the movement. Enrollments in this training course of Scout leaders are now being received at the headquarters of the Blackhawk Area, 219 Mead Building, Rockford.

REVISE TIME OF ROCKFORD GIRL'S MURDER IN ROOM

Seen By Janitor About 8 O'clock Sunday, He Declares

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 12—(AP)—Combing through the correspondence of Cordelia Gummshelmer, high school teacher found slain Sunday night in her apartment, the Rockford authorities found a letter from Ralph B. Howe, Chicago business executive, and sought today to question him.

State's Attorney William D. Knight said he did not regard Howe as a suspect but added: "We want to talk to Howe because it is necessary to question every person who knows anything about Miss Gummshelmer's life. Some place in her past lies a clue to the identity of the killer."

The names of other friends of Miss Gummshelmer and more information about her recent contacts were desired from Howe, the State's Attorney said. He has already investigated the teacher's association with several other men. Howe could not be located last night at his Chicago business or residence address.

Slain Sunday Morn

The authorities have revised the hour for the slaying of the teacher, advancing it from midnight Saturday, previously considered the time of the crime, until after 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

10 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS IS ONE TIME WHEN WE ARE ALL GLAD TO GET WHAT'S COMING TO US.

DIXON'S BEAUTIFUL AND MODERN NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

"OPEN HOUSE" FRIDAY AND ON SATURDAY

Fine New Building To Be Dedicated Friday Evening

Citizens of Dixon and community desiring to inspect the interior of the beautiful new half million dollar high school will enjoy this privilege over the week end and will be shown every department of the institution of learning. Superintendent I. E. Potter announced today that visitors would be welcome in the new building over the week-end, a program of visiting hours having been arranged for the convenience of all who may desire to view the interior of the building.

Tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock, the building will be open for the reception of visitors. The entire high school faculty and a corps of senior students will be on hand to escort the visitors through the building and explain the various departments. The inspection will halt at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening when the dedication program will be held in the gymnasium with Superintendent Francis G. Blair of the State Department of Public Instruction as the guest speaker.

Saturday and Sunday afternoon, the building will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon for inspection. The board of education and Superintendent Potter have arranged for open house on these dates that all who so desire, may have an opportunity of visiting the new structure.

Is Fine Building

The $600,000 institution is one of the finest in the state, being unsurpassed by any high school in a city the size of Dixon.

The gymnasium is one of the finest to be found in any high school in Illinois and is comparable to those of some of the larger institutions of learning. The floor provides a space 40 by 81 for play purposes and is constructed of fine maple. Removable bleachers may be placed on the playing floor well outside the playing space which together with the spacious balcony provide a seating capacity for 1,600 persons.

Leaving the gymnasium one enters a locker room in which 460 box style lockers and 70 full length lockers are provided for the high school athletes. In the team room, which is apart from the main locker room, 45 special metal lockers are provided for players on either basketball or football squads. Ten shower baths are also provided in this room. Overlooking the dressing room and gymnasium is another room used for the athletic director and coach.

Girls' Department

The girls' department adjoining the gymnasium is equipped with seven fine shower baths, with an office overlooking for the physical director. This department is also equipped with 460 box and 70 full length lockers. The girl students desiring to use the gymnasium will have special hours and will be under direct supervision, but the indications point to no active program of athletics for the girl students this season.

The mechanical drawing room is also located in the west end of the hall on the first floor. This is equipped with 30 desks and set into the walls are specially constructed display cases for the showing of the work of this department of the school's activity.

Crossing the hall is the manual training department, which has increased in popularity in the high school during the past few years. This department has been furnished with complete new equipment. An adjoining room across for the storage of lumber and tools, a dust proof finishing room and a private office for the instructor.

The agriculture department, another department which has come to the front rapidly and which turned out a national championship team this fall, is located in the west end of the first floor. Six large desks are provided with a capacity of four students to each in the main study room. An adjoining room provides ample space for a conservatory and farm mechanics. A mouse proof seed room, a seed germinating room and office for the agricultural instructor complete this department. Underneath the agricultural department is a room designed especially for the constructive work of the agricultural class. Farm machinery may be brought into this department to be used in study and construction work carried on advantageously.

A few more Goodfellows came to the fore yesterday with their donations and among them we should give special mention to the St. James Ladies' Aid Society who brought $10 to this office to help make Christmas time happy for some more Dixon youngsters. These contributions from the surrounding country are a pleasant commentary on the kind of people who populate the countryside around Dixon. Their charity is broad.

One letter from a rural route out of a town in another county says, "enclosed find one dollar bill to apply to the kiddies' Christmas fund. I am a very poor man, but love the children, so am a friend to all of them."

Funds Come Slowly.

People like that restore your faith in humanity.

Funds for the Goodfellow fund are not coming in as well this year as formerly, although we feel sure that Dixon Goodfellows will all be present and accounted for before the finish. But it is every necessary that donations come in promptly so that the committee may be able to plan its campaign.

There are several hundred little boys and girls in Dixon who will not get a visit from Santa Claus this year unless the Goodfellows help them. You don't want any of these little folks watching and waiting in vain at Christmas time, do you?

Fix Heirship Of Murdered Couple

Murphysboro, Ill., Dec. 12—(UP)—That J. C. Hundley survived his wife thirty minutes was proved in the Jackson County Court today, and as a result heirship to the estates can be established.

The finding causes one-third of the wife's estate to go to the estate of her husband, with the son, Victor, as the heir to his father's estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Hundley were murdered in their home in Carbondale almost a year ago, the double-murder attracting wide attention at the time. The murderer is still at large.

RESCUERS WORK TO FREE MINER IN MINE SHAFT

Victim Directs Crew To Hurry: He Fears He'll Miss Meal

Crosby, Minn., Dec. 12—(UP)—Rescuers extricated Jack Snyder from a cave-in mine shaft today after he had been pinioned by dirt and timbers 40 hours.

Snyder showed no ill effects from his temporary entombment and his wish to "be home in time for Sunday dinner" was realized with two days to spare.

Crosby, Minn., Dec. 12—(UP)—Fearful that he might not get to eat Sunday dinner with his family, Jack Snyder, 47, urged greater speed today on a rescue crew which has been striving to remove him from the depths of an iron mine where he has been pinned for the last 48 hours.

Snyder isn't worried about his own precarious condition, but he said he "hoped to God you'll get me out of here before Sunday."

Members of the rescue party uncovered Snyder from the cave-in early today and only the timber which pinned his ankle in an ore crevice remained in his way to freedom.

The miner calmly smoked cigarettes and munched food brought by his wife as he directed the rescue work. Physicians in constant attendance at the mine said he was uninjured.

The utmost care must be taken to prevent another cave in which the timber is moved.

When told that Mrs. Snyder and his six children, ranging in age from 7 to 18, were at the mouth of the shaft, Snyder ordered the rescue party to speed up their work.

"They'll be awful worried if I'm not home for Sunday dinner," he said.

See Murder As Echo Of Kidnaping Case

Chicago, Dec. 12—(UP)—An echo of the kidnaping of 10-year-old Billy Ranieri was seen today in the murder of Tomasso Tirtilili, 60, shot down on a street last night.

Police learned Tirtilili was the father-in-law of Angelo Pettiti, convicted head of the extortion ring that held the Ranieri boy for ransom.

Pettiti and Andrew Cappellano are serving penitentiary terms.

The Ranieri home has been guarded numerous times because of threats of revenge.

No effort was made to rob Tirtilili and no other motive could be established.

Gov. Emmerson Will Return To Capital

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 12—(AP)—Governor Louis L. Emmerson, who has been at Washington for several days in the interest of waterway development for the state, is expected to return here late today. During the absence of Governor Emmerson, the affairs of state have been managed by Lt. Governor Fred E. Sterling, who left for his home at Rockford last night.

Senator Wright Had Operation Tuesday

(Telegraph Special Service)

DeKalb, Dec. 12—Senator Harry G. Wright, who was operated upon at the Colonial hospital at Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday for the removal of a stone in the kidney, is greatly improved and expected to be able to return here Sunday. The injury received by Senator Wright when his knee cap was fractured in automobile accident several days ago is also showing marked improvement.

DIXON WOMAN IS ARRESTED TODAY ON FRAUD CHARGE

Mrs. Mabel Roberts Is Accused Of Conspiracy With Lawyer

Mrs. Mabel Roberts, wife of Thomas Roberts, farmer who resides south of Dixon, was arrested at the home of friends in Freeport this morning charged with being implicated in embezzlement charges on which Roman P. Edler, Freeport attorney, was indicted by the Stephenson county grand jury yesterday.

She was held under bonds of $3,000, which were furnished by Freeport friends, and her hearing continued until next week. The Roberts formerly lived in Freeport, it is stated.

Edler, prominent Stephenson county lawyer, was indicted for embezzlement in three separate counts, conspiracy to defraud and receiving stolen property.

The sensational charges grow out of alleged manipulations through which the fortune of Lillian A. Waddell, 57, a Freeport widow, was swept away, leaving her almost penniless.

Edler, a son-in-law of Chief of Police Adam Wilkey of Freeport, furnished bond of $5,000 and obtained his release. The bond was secured by his father, Fred C. Edler.

Lived at Hotel.

The story dates back to May 1, 1928, when Mrs. Waddell resided at the Clifton hotel. She is said to have been induced by Mrs. Roberts, who is now involved with Edler on the conspiracy count, to leave the hotel and reside with her.

Mrs. Waddell, the daughter of John Biffenbaugh, one of Freeport's wealthiest merchants of a generation ago, and the widow of Burt Waddell, who died five years ago, had 182 shares of Cities Service stock as her sole fortune, upon the income of which she depended for subsistence.

Believing she could live more cheaply at the home of her friend, she consented to the plan and went to the Wyandotte st. house of her friend to make her home.

Mrs. Roberts is alleged to have asked Mrs. Waddell to sign a paper which she represented to be a statement of $100 for board and room another tenant owed, according to the evidence in possession of State's Attorney Louis Reinhold.

This, in fact, it is charged, was a document transferring 100 shares of her Cities Service stock, on which the woman realized $12,000. This was placed on deposit in a local bank.

Get Court Order.

Subsequently, two more shares of Cities Service stock were lost and Mrs. Waddell, according to her conservator, Frank Brubaker, now has only 80 shares of the stock, with an income of about $60 a month.

Edler, during this time, represented Mrs. Waddell as her attorney, but friends acting in her behalf, sometime ago went into court and obtained an order for appointment of a conservator on the ground that she was incompetent to handle her affairs.

The specific charges against Edler are that on March 1, 1929, he obtained through fraud from Mrs. Waddell $12,000 worth of Cities Service stock, and that subsequently he obtained $5,000 in cash from her as her balance in cash from her.

Another count against him is that on Oct. 4, last, he obtained from Thomas Floyd Jones, $500, acting also as his bailor.

At one time kings and nobles were the only ones allowed to wear beards.

EXECUTIVES OF PATHE STUDIO UNDER ARREST

Held On Charges Of Manslaughter As Result Of Fire

New York, Dec. 12—(AP)—Two executives of the Pathe Studios were arrested today on charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of ten persons in the fire which destroyed the Manhattan Film Studio Tuesday.

They are John C. Flinn, 40, of Yonkers, a vice-president, and Henry F. Lalley, 40, manager. They were arrested after police seized 160 containers, estimated to hold between 50,000 and 100,000 feet of film.

The manslaughter charge is based on negligence growing out of alleged violation of a city ordinance prohibiting the storage of more than five reels of film in certain types of buildings. The Manhattan studio was classified as coming under this ordinance by the Fire Marshal's department.

Four chorus girls and six male members of a company of 100 were burned to death when fire broke out in the studio during the filming of a talking picture.

Officials of the fire prevention bureau said a sprinkler system had been ordered installed in the studio but the order could not be enforced because not more than five reels of film were stored in the building at one time.

Flinn and Lalley were admitted to bail of $5,000 each.

Cocoanuts are the chief money crop of the people of Guam.

COUNTY ROADS TO BE POSTED COMING SPRING

The Supervisors Acted To Prevent Damage By Heavy Trucks

The county highway road system will be protected against damage from overloaded trucks and buses and all manner of transportation for a period of 45 days next spring, it was decided by the Board of Supervisors at this morning's session.

Maximum loads, it was indicated, will come under the 5,000 pound limit and from some parts of the county requests have been received that limit be placed at 2,500 pounds. The board voted unanimously to empower the road and bridge committee to act in the posting and limitation of weights of loads.

Supervisor Brucker of China township presented the proposition to the board and asked that County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake explain conditions to the supervisors. The County Superintendent called attention to the fact that county school buses, milk and stock trucks and other heavy freight trucks were using the county roads and at the time of the year when frost leaves the ground the damage to the highway system will be immense.

Economical Measure

"The posting of the system of roads in Lee county is the most economical measure than can be pursued," Superintendent Leake stated and added that this method of road construction, principally gravel, would not permit heavy tonnage in the spring of the year. He enumerated many examples where roads had been ruined by heavy trucks, requiring the expenditure of considerable money. None of the members of the board expressed opposition to the plan. Supervisor Finch of Amboy told the board that many of the roads would be closed because of damage if the posting system was not adopted.

To Seek State Aid

The board adopted a resolution presented by the fees and salaries committee in which it reported a balance of but $1,595.37 in the mother's pension fund which was inadequate to carry on the work of the County Treasurer be empowered to draw from the general fund until the 1929 tax levy is collected, at which time the amount drawn was to be repaid.

The state Department of Agriculture will be requested to assume a part of the expense of the salary of the recently selected County Veterinarian, by action of the board this morning.

The bovine tuberculosis eradication committee presented a resolution which was unanimously adopted, in which it was urged that state relief be sought in the carrying out of the bovine tuberculosis eradication program in Lee county.

Supervisor Brucker of China township explained to the board that on his visit to Springfield last fall in the interest of the county bovine tuberculosis eradication work, he learned that the aid might be asked for by action of the board, and the resolution was adopted. In counties where the county area plan of inspection is adopted, as is the case in Lee county, the request for aid may be filed under the new law, the board was informed.

RAINY NIGHTS

(Liverpool)

EVERYWHERE
The leaden glitter of wet and shining streets.
Of dripping roadways; where each shallow pool
Gleams like a disc of onyx.
And the river is a void of velvet blackness.
In which gold, flickering lights
Unceasing dance and swing.
Amid a shimmering gauze of rain-drops.

Through lengthened aisles of shadow,
Beneath the tall, grim houses, slanting roofs,
(Huge monuments of commerce);
Traffic of men and things.
Now fast, now slow, is urging forward
Through a wavering veil of rain.
As swift, dark shadows slip along a mountain side;
Or changing shapes cast by bright flickering firelight.
Move along somber walls,
Or in a dream dark room.

But in the river's pool
Impenetrably deep and still;
With glowing eyes of white, and red, and green,
The solemn ships glide in to anchorage.
Each a vast, silent shape, as of a world that moves,
And carries deeply in its hidden heart
The cares of government, the lives of men.
With all their aspirations, dreams and hopes;
Journeying darkly by uncharted seas,
Unto an unknown shore.

Wavering, shimmering, quivering, falls the rain.
And all the night breathes low, with weary sighs.
To pattering castanets of falling drops.
Until they change to louder cadences
Through slippery spots and racing gutters.
Down to the endless cobbled ways
That ever onward lead
To still, broad river,
And to teeming docks.

Duet—Millie and Gladys Ortgiesen.

Miss Louise Robyn Distinguished Visitor

Miss Louise Robyn, head of the normal or children's department of the American Conservatory of Music Chicago, spent yesterday in Dixon under the auspices of the Philharmonic Society, and also the guest of her pupil and friend, Mrs. Dwight Chapman. Miss Josephine Anderson, member of the Philharmonics is also a pupil of Miss Robyn. Mrs. Chapman and Miss Anderson are two of the most talented of the Dixon plants.

At noon Mrs. W. H. Coppins entertained with a charming luncheon at her home, with Miss Robyn as the guest of honor. Later Miss Robyn in her delightful and efficient manner talked on the value of the proper musical training of the child as young as three years through the teens and upward. Miss Robyn was present throughout the afternoon as Mrs. Chapman gave her pupils lessons.

Last evening the Philharmonic Society entertained at the Coffee Shop with a dinner later followed by a happy evening at the Chapman home where the mothers of the members of the Philharmonic society and other pupils and a few friends were guests and were enthusiastic over the interesting address delivered to them by Miss Robyn who talked on "The Development of the Child's Mind, from 3 to 21 Years, and the Importance of Early Musical Training in the Growing Child." Miss Robyn stressed the advantage of early musical training in children and cited many incidents where the musical training was of great assistance in the study of other subjects. Good music appeals to all that is best in humanity and the child's sensitive and open mind responds as readily to the impressions given it when young, as a harp or violin; and this is also true with the adolescent mind of the child. Miss Robyn's inspiring talk was heartily enjoyed and appreciated by everyone present during the evening and the Philharmonic Society is to be congratulated on their achievement in bringing her to the city.

Women Want More Control of Politics

Washington, Dec. 12—(UP)—Women will not be content until they have a larger share in control of public affairs. Raymond Clapper, manager of the United Press Washington bureau said in a radio address under the auspices of the National Woman's Party over a National Broadcasting Company network.

"This battle for political recognition probably will be one of the major political developments of the coming decade," Clapper said. "The fight of women to get into the Cabinet, to get the Vice Presidency and perhaps eventually to try for the White House itself, is almost inevitable. It is delayed only while women take some time for training necessary to develop capable political leaders."

Glen Kime Victim Of Surprise Party

A number of friends completely surprised Glenn Kime at his home Wednesday evening, the happy occasion being in honor of his birthday. Cards and games were enjoyed. A delicious luncheon was served at a late hour. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pearce and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freyberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wilhelm and family, Miss Thelma Beckingham, Orville McPeeters of Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shears, Fred Kesselring of Franklin Grove.

The WOMAN'S DAY ALLIANCE

Shall you dance, or shall you diet, to keep your figure—supposing, of course, that you want to keep it?

Dancers and dieters are seldom the same person, according to Leo Reisman, who conducts the orchestra at the Casino in New York where the smart people are dancing these days.

"If a doctor told you to walk ten miles a day to keep down your flesh, you wouldn't obey his instructions," he said. "But you can dance ten miles in an evening—and many young couples do—and consider that you are having entertainment, and exercise as well."

One evening, not entirely engrossed by his score, it occurred to Reisman to wonder just how much mileage the average couple got out of themselves in an evening of dancing, so he induced a couple to take the dancing test.

They put speedometers on their feet and at the end of the evening it was found that in the hours from eight to midnight, they had covered just a fraction over ten miles.

WHY THEY'RE SLIM

That explained why most of the dancers, young or old, were slim and shapely and light on their feet. For he had long noticed that it was not only the debutantes who danced there night after night, but women of 50, and sometimes more, looking as young as their own daughters, who stepped to his music.

The craze for dancing will have to go out, he says, before the more ample type of figure returns to any degree of favor, because so long as we spend our evenings dancing, we are almost bound to be slim and flapper-figured.

In the days when the more ample woman reigned, with her full voluminous clothes as well as her full hips, she did not dance as she does today. Dance forms were slow and languorous with rest periods between—and people "sat out" dances occasionally.

Today dancing is swift, and it takes muscular strength, and poise. Girls dance in the afternoon, dance at teas, dance through their dinners in the evening, and dance after the theater—sometimes until dawn.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE

Many social dancers today dance as well as professionals, and can do as many tricky, fancy steps. With the present system of cutting in, a popular girl may dance for hours without stopping.

Dancing is better, too, Reisman said, because instead of dancing in their homes and in small groups where everyone knows everyone else, they dance in cafes and night clubs and in hotels. The competition is much keener. Many society girls go to the same dancing teachers who train professionals, and go through the same routine and technique to perfect their steps as if they were going in for stage dancing in a big way.

If you get on dance floor every night, he insists, you can soon forget all about the weighing scales, and you can resume pleasant relations with starches and sugars.

FASHIONS

The Chic Women's "Uniform" from Season to Season

PALE ROSE HOUSE—A dark brown skirt and cardigan suit of jersey has a charming pale rose jersey blouse with crystal buttons and is lined with pink.

ORANGE TIE—A burnt orange tweed suit, with its jacket a basque, completes its chic with a tuck-in white satin blouse and bow tie of orange crepe.

BOW YOKE—Green, brown and white flock a tan tweed suit with peplum flare to its coat. The back yoke is cut so it looks like a big flat bow.

HAT PINS—It is chic to have either a spray of flowers or one's initials worked out smartly in brilliants for hat ornaments this season.

STRASS BOLERO—A debutante's evening gown in pink faille has a simulated bolero in strass which also fashions the pretty shoulder straps.

FUR CAPE—Grandmother's short fur cape has its 1930 successor, Paris sends finger tip capes of black ermine that are very chic.

CRYSTAL WINGS—Two crystal wings adorn a little black velvet turban with long sides.

ZIPPER CLOSING—An evening gown of pink satin with square of lace inserted in modernistic fashion fastens down the left side with a little gold zipper closing.

EXTRA DECORATION—When there are children in the family it is worth while to have a few jars of such decorative extras as fancy cho-colored caraway seeds to sprinkle over the tops of cookies, white cake and puddings for an extra appetizing touch.

PUFF SLEEVES—Party frocks for those under 25 use the puff sleeve occasionally with great success. A purple net, very long gown has wide, square décolletage and full short puff sleeves.

SMART IDEA—If you have a smart winter suit with longish coat, match the color in a crepe de chine frock, with suitable accessories, and you have two complete outfits by interchanging accessories and wearing the coat with both.

NEW PURSES—New purses are elegant, both in fabric and sleek shapes. A black antelope one has octagonal cut, in ebony fastening and diamond monogrammed clasp.

FUR COLLAR—A moss green kashimere wool frock has a beaver scarf collar that slips its ends through slashes in the yoke of the frock.

EVENING OXFORDS—Very new and startling are evening oxfords, two and three tie, that Paris creates. Silver brocade and apple green crepe de chine fashion one pair, with silver vamp and heel and silver eyelets and lacing in the apple green.

BOX SOCIAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY EVENING—

A box social will be held at the Oak Forest School on Friday evening, Dec. 13. A program of a Christmas nature will be held first and will be followed by the sale of boxes. Miss Gundhill Hanson, teacher, Coffee, doughnuts and candy will be sold.

WERE ENTERTAINED AT HARRY WARNER HOME—

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner delightfully entertained a company of twelve friends at dinner Tuesday evening, followed by an evening at bridge.

SECURITY BENEFIT ASSOCIATION TO MEET—

The Security Benefit Association will meet Friday evening at the home of Dennis Murphy, 503 Hennepin Avenue.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER LAST EVENING—

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dickey entertained at dinner last evening Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lehman, Miss Cather-

Actress-Wife

Sues Rail Heir

Mildred Richardson Hill, above described as a "perfect American beauty," and third wife of Walter Hill, youngest son of the late James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, has sued for divorce in Livingston, Mont. Hill, a rancher, married Miss Richardson, who had been playing in "No, No, Nanette," within 10 minutes after he divorced his second wife in 1927.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lehman.

TO BE MARRIED ON DEC. TWENTY-FIFTH—

Miss Alice Luella Eberly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Eberly, Dixon, Route 1, and Clarence W. Meyers will be married on Dec. 25th, Christmas Day.

TO ENTERTAIN AT PARTY AT MASONIC TEMPLE—

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 18th, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Alexander will entertain with dancing and bridge at the Masonic Temple.

THE GENUINE RADICALS.

The word "radical," as we use it in this country, has been a word to frighten children. It represents everything that we fear and hate; uncouth and bewhiskered men, dangerous dreamers, long-haired meddlers who would tear down our old institutions and launch us on uncharted and dangerous seas of experiment.

As it happens, though, we don't really understand the word. If we did, we might realize that our greatest radicals are not our Socialists or our Communists, but our wealthy, conservative industrialists.

Rodney Dutcher recently pointed this fact out very clearly.

Washington heard two proposals looking toward the abolition of war the other day.

One of them came from Bertrand Russell, famous English Socialist.

Russell proposed that war be ended by control of essential raw materials. He would have such materials denied to all belligerents, thus crippling them so that war would be impossible.

Russell admitted that his idea was somewhat visionary, and said it would take years of education to study before it could be tried.

The other anti-war proposal came from Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, the very wealthy industrialist.

Hurley's idea was the same as Russell's, except that it was more drastic.

He pointed out that a dozen or more industrialists of three or four different nations, by their control of raw materials such as rubber, copper and the like, could end war overnight. He wants them to organize and get ready to do it. Unlike Russell, he doesn't think the plan is visionary. He doesn't think it will take "years of education and study." He thinks it can be put into effect at once, and he wants to see it done.

So we have the strange spectacle of a conservative and wealthy industrialist going far beyond a daring Socialist in proposing a remedy for the ills that beset modern society.

We needn't be surprised, though. Our biggest business leaders are our greatest radicals. They are changing the conditions of life with a speed to make the theorists blink. We don't notice it—so we call them conservatives.

Who ever proposed such a radical change in industrial procedure as Rockefeller put into effect? Who ever was half as radical about wages and prices as Henry Ford? What approach to international problems is as radical as the approach of our greatest bankers?

We are, when you stop to think about it, being ruled by radicals. The only reason it doesn't excite us is that we don't realize it.

NEWS TRAVELS FAST.

When you stop to think about it, the real marvel in connection with Byrd's flight over the South Pole isn't the fact that he made the flight so much as the fact that the whole world knew all about it the next day.

The speed with which modern communication is carried on is an amazing thing. A couple of decades ago Peary went to the North Pole; but it was months before anyone knew anything about it. Now news travels more swiftly than anything else on earth.

The greatest battle of the war of 1812—Jackson's fight at New Orleans—was fought after peace had actually been signed. It took a month to get the news across the Atlantic. What a contrast with today, where a trip to the South Pole is known all over the world less than 24 hours after it happens!

WATCH OUT FOR THE FLU.

This is an excellent time of year to keep one eye cocked on that familiar old enemy, the flu.

The flu is a puzzling sort of malady. It is almighty easy to acquire; a few hours exposure to bad weather in insufficient clothing usually suffice to give it a foothold. And, once it gets established, it is hard to shake off. If it is trifled with it can lay a man up or weeks.

Avoid exposure, keep warmly dressed, get plenty of fresh air at night and don't let any little cold get the better of you—and, if one does, call a doctor at once. The flu is abroad in the land, and there's no sense in trifling with it. If you get a touch of it, lie low until it is gone.

Many boys are taking up the study of housekeeping sciences says a statistical bulletin. Somebody has to open the cans.

Twenty-one students were expelled on liquor charges by the University of Illinois. Maybe that song should be revised to read, "By thy campus gently flowing, Illinois, Illinois."

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Timmies were full of pep. Just watch me. I won't spill the paint, but do the job up right. He grabbed a paint pot from nearby and soon the paint began to fly. It wasn't long until the scooter was a brilliant red.

"That's all there is to paint right now," said Carpy. "I will show you how to put these things together. As a carpenter I'm smart. Use glue and nails and work real fast. Oh, my, how time goes sailing past. Be sure and make all of the toys so they won't come apart."

"Was quite a thrilling sight to see them all as busy as could be. Wee little carts took shape real fast and rolled around the floor. The Timmies tested them when done and riding was a lot of fun. 'I like this work,' cried Copy. 'They can give me work galore.'

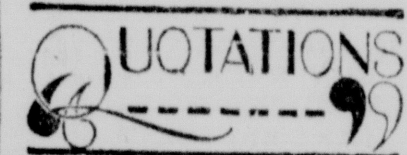

"You're right," said Santa. "That's the way to make your work seem just like play. Remember, everything you make will make some youngster glad. I want no little tots forlorn when they wake up on Christmas morn. Each toy will reach some little girl or greet a happy lad."

"Now I must leave you for a spell. I'm sure you'll do your work up well." Then Santa left the little shop. "I'll soon come back," said he. "Then to some other shop we'll go. There still is heaps to see, you know. Before you all leave Toyland, you'll be glad you called on me."

It wasn't long till Copy said, "I'll paint a scooter brilliant red."

At the Cross-Roads of Health

SSS has meant a new day to many a person

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

Lack of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, that "tired feeling" and other human ills may be due to a lack of red-cells in your blood.

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"MY despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skin blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? . . . happily the day came and I found the right road to Health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

SSS

Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

HENRY CLAY NOMINATED

On Dec. 12, 1831, Henry Clay, then a United States senator, was unanimously nominated for the presidency by the Whigs.

Clay was overwhelmingly defeated by Jackson, largely on account of his tariff theories, and his unwise choice, as a party issue, of the defense of the National Bank.

The defeated candidate lost few opportunities of opposing the administration of Jackson in subsequent controversies. Throughout this period of his career, Clay shared the honors of the Senate in its time of meridian glory with Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun and Thomas H. Benton.

Today also is the anniversary of the birth of Mary Todd Lincoln, wife of Abraham Lincoln, on Dec. 12, 1818.

And on Dec. 12, 1803, Congress submitted the 12 original amendments to the Constitution to the states.

X-MAS LOTTERY IN LONDON TO GIVE $100,000

It's Against the Law, But Then Charity Will Benefit

BY ARCH RODGERS
United Press Staff Correspondent
London, Dec. 12.—(UP)—What would you like for Christmas? An automobile, a barrel of beer, a Christmas dinner for a party of twelve, a case of mint sauce with a live lamb, a dozen home made cakes with hammer and cold-chisel, a quart of milk delivered daily for a year, a thirty-day spring cruise in the Mediterranean, two return tickets to either Paris or Cologne, or a case of champagne?

These and other gifts will be distributed in aid of London's greatest Christmas charity fund within a few days. Lotteries, and the announcement or advertisement thereof, are strictly against the law in England. Therefore nobody knows just when or how the wheel of fortune will begin to spin, and how or why half-crown contributions to the charity fund will share in free gifts, prizes and Christmas boxes to the value of $100,000.

Santa Claus has never borne a greater variety of gifts than those contained in his London Christmas charity bag. The list starts off with seven automobiles. It includes a stick, a ball of string, a bent pin, a glass jar, and a Tiddler, presented by a Boy Scout, probably as a stimulus to pascatory activities. Or how about a sectional garage or six Doulton Ware jars filled with very old Highland whisky? Perhaps a dinner and dance for a party of eight at the Savoy Hotel would do.

A seven piece suite might be a little bulky in a Christmas stocking. So might a turkey and two pounds of sausages or a case of brandy. Two weeks holiday in Devonshire, a paid subscription to your golf club and a set of clubs and a dozen golf balls, a suckling pig and a feeding bottle, a $75 overcoat, a dozen bottles of port, a pedigree Essex pig, an Irish ham, and a four foot golden Christmas tree will help to brighten lucky homes on Christmas.

One of the gifts is a little daily dose of champagne with Mr. Cyril Nicholas at 11 o'clock in the morning at his office, 27A Old Broad Street, E. C. 2, during the first fortnight in January. If a teetotaler, a little daily dose of Kruschen, but not with Mr. Nichols.

A great variety of food will be away, ranging from a fish and chips (fried potatoes) supper for two every Saturday night for six weeks, to a Christmas dinner for twelve, including a turkey, a ham, two dozen mince pies, a large Christmas pudding, a Sifton cheese, various fruits, sweets and vegetables, cigars and cigarettes, and two bottles of Sherry, four bottles of Port, four bottles of champagne, two bottles of whisky, a bottle of brandy, a bottle of Benedictine, and a bottle of Creme de Menthe. In other words, a jolly fine Christmas.

DEFENDS PAL IN CRIME
East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Jesse Wyatt, who is serving a 99-year prison term for the murder of Charles C. Larick, East St. Louis druggist, in a holdup March 3, testified today in the trial of Otto Morgan, charged with the same crime, that Morgan was unaware of his purpose in entering the drug store and did not know he was armed.

Wyatt's testimony corroborated the main points in a confession which detectives said yesterday had been given them by Morgan. Wyatt said he had no intention of holding up the drug store until he approached the proprietor, and that he fired when the druggist made a movement as if to draw a weapon.

CHARGE POISON PLOT

Fairfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—(UP)—An 18-year-old candy salesman and a 33-year-old general store owner have been bound over to the county grand jury in connection with an alleged plot to poison Buck Schaffer, 53, farmer.

Raleigh Stanley, the salesman, was alleged to have told authorities that he was offered $500 by John Hoffe, the store owner, to poison the farmer.

Hoffe, said to have had a recent falling out with Schaffer, denied knowing Stanley when he was arrested.

"PINK" HAWLEY STILL DEVOTEE OF BALL PLAY

Former Diamond Star is Found in Beaver Dam, Wis.

Beaver Dam, Wis., Dec. 11—(UP)—One of the sterling old-timers of the baseball world is now a middle-aged citizen of this town of 8000 with baseball glory many years in the background but with baseball interest nearly as intense as the day back in 1893 when he became a "leaguer" with the St. Louis Browns.

He is Emerson "Pink" Hawley, who 35 years ago was one of the leaders in American baseball. Not since 1911 has Pink Hawley figured in sporting news, but during all of those 19 years sporting news has figured mightily in Pink's life.

Hawley lives on a quiet street here and his neighbors have all but forgotten that their friend once was the idol of sportdom.

It was in 1892 that Pink's first offer to try-out with a major league was received. He paid his own expenses to the Texas training camp at the Chicago Cubs. Not long after he had an independent team at Fort Smith, Ark. and there established a reputation as a pitcher that brought him the offer from the Browns.

From St. Louis Hawley went to Pittsburgh for a record price—$3500 and three players—and he won 29 games the first season. Two years after Pittsburgh had turned down Cleveland's $10,000 offer for Hawley he was taken over by Cincinnati.

The beginning of the end—always early in the life of an athlete—came when Pink left the Giants in 1901. He spent several years in minor leagues and managing Wisconsin state league clubs before dropping from the baseball picture.

In the stands when the Athletics played the Cubs in the world series this year Old Pink was an eager watcher and a jovial critic.

"I Would Not Do Without Kavatone" Says Jackson Woman

Well-Known Jackson Resident Tells Remarkable Story of Health Recovery Through Kavatone.

"I do not believe that I could have stood the awful pains in my back much longer," said Mrs. Fred W. Anderson, 353 West Cortland street, Jackson, Michigan, to the Kavatone Man.

"Kavatone has certainly saved me a lot of suffering because before I used it there was a constant dull pain right across my kidneys. Everytime I stooped over or stood on my feet very long the pain in the small of my back became sharp and cutting, as though someone was stabbing me with a knife. Then in the morning when I first got up my back was stiff and sore and I had to move about in a cramped position before I could straighten up. My condition became so bad that I had dizzy spells and everything turned black before my eyes so that I would nearly fall. After using only two bottles of Kavatone I have found wonderful relief from my kidney trouble. The pains in my back have almost entirely disappeared and my back is no longer stiff and sore when I get up in the morning. I have more energy than I have had in years and I am no longer troubled by those aggravating dizzy spells. I have not stopped using Kavatone yet but my brief experience with it has convinced me that I have at last found something that is doing me world of good. I do not know what I would do without Kavatone."

The Kavatone man is at Ford Hopkins Co., where he is daily meeting the public and personally explaining the merits of this great preparation. The famous Kavatone figure (an ingenious human torso showing every organ of the body) is used in this demonstration and everyone is cordially invited to see and study this figure, an experience which will be interesting and instructive.—Adv.

Wisconsin Judge Claims A Record

Jefferson, Wis., Dec. 12 —(UP)—Circuit Judge George Grimm here has the reputation of being the "settlest judge in the country."

During the past year 90 per cent of the legal controversies filed in Judge Grimm's court, never have come to trial because the pacifying judge has called the principals together and acted as referee in an informal settlement.

Every sort of quarrel, from domestic triangles to disputes over ownership of a cow has come within the influence of Judge Grimm who started his role of pacifier 35 years ago and who has a record of 75 per cent of all the cases brought into his court settled without going to trial. Explaining his attitude the judge said:

"None realizes better than a trial judge what bitterness, what hatred, and angry passion is often aroused during the trial of a case and how often this influence spreads in whose neighborhoods an infection that is ready to break out again and again for years and generations to come, and so surely none wishes more heartily than the trial judge to aid in adjusting disputes without a trial."

Judge Grimm admitted that at first the lawyers of his circuit did not take kindly to the practice of out of court settlements but "it soon became apparent, he said, "that litigants were more willing to pay liberally for services rendered by their lawyers in helping to bring about adjustments than they were for trials in which they might lose."

Duke Of Atholl Is Commander Of Army

London, Dec. 12 —(UP)—The only British subject permitted to maintain a private army will celebrate his 58th birthday tomorrow. The man who owns his own armed forces is the Duke of Atholl, holder of 19 titles.

The Duke's retinue of armed retainers, a picturesque survival of feudal days, is an officially recognized force. Queen Victoria once presented colors to the army, numbering about 300. All the members of the Atholl Highlanders served during the world war in the Scottish Horse. The Duke of Atholl has three seats in Perthshire; at Blair Castle, Dunkeld House, and Eastwood, as well as a residence in London.

WAR VIEWED AS "NECESSARY" BY GERMAN AUTHOR

Says His Books are "Moral Armament" for Next
Conflict

Berlin, Dec. 12.—(UP)—War is necessary as it is nothing but a continuation of politics by different means, according to Ernest Juenger, author of "Storm and Steel" and other war books.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press Herr Juenger declared he does not condemn war as do the authors of a number of other war books.

"I consider my books as part of Germany's moral and intellectual armament for the next war," Juenger said. "I do not believe that the next war will come soon and I would consider it particularly unfavorable to Germany if war did come soon, but I am of opinion that war is necessary. I am a disciple of Nietzsche and take the greatest delight in a struggle for power, wherever it occurs and whoever wins."

"A man is of little value and should be sacrificed for great ends. A man might attain supreme value if he sacrificed himself voluntarily." Referring to "All Quiet on the Western Front" Juenger declared he appreciated that Erich Maria Remarque's book was a "Camouflage" in that it created the opinion that Germany was dominated by internationalism and pacifism.

"War-time Life Heroic" "My book, however, added Juenger, "was written to make it clear that we combatants are not so awfully unhappy. My feeling that war-time life is heroic is not restricted to Germany but is shared by many enemies from whom I have frequently received letters. My correspondents are particularly numerous among former members of Scottish regiments whom I encountered during the great German offensive of March, 1918. This was the fiercest fighting I experienced during my four years at the front."

Juenger who was wounded several times in the war is still suffering from the effects of a bullet in the lung. He received all the Prussian war decorations and has since served as an officer in the Reichswehr. He is married and has one child.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—Kenneth Kaecker, 19, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaecker, who reside six miles west of Rochelle on the Lincoln Highway, injured the thumb on his right hand and the last two fingers on his left hand in a corn elevator, Tuesday. They had finished filling the corn crib and Mr. Kaecker was cleaning up corn around the machine. He caught his thumb and in trying to extricate this members of his right hand with his left two digits were drawn into the machine. The injured members were dressed at the Lincoln Hospital, Tuesday evening and it is believed that with good care amputation will not be necessary.

Walter Voss, who resides near Ashton, and C. H. Danegar, of Oak Park, who are patients at the Lincoln hospital, where they were brought Sunday afternoon to receive treatment for gun shot wounds, each being accidentally shot in the leg when a gun jammed, are still suffering quite badly. Mr. Voss was suffering intensely Tuesday evening and hospital authorities would not permit Mr. Danegar to see visitors.

Funeral services for Mrs. William Ling, who died at her home on Fourth Avenue, Sunday evening, following a lingering illness were held from the home and Methodist church Tuesday. The Rev. J. A. Foard, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated and interment was at Lighthouse cemetery. Among those from out-of-town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Klemens of Chicago, and Mrs. Ida Saunders and Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Minneapolis.

In-law, Jonas Johnson and renewing acquaintances with former associates at the Geo. D. Whitcomb Co. In the Rochelle's third Opportunity Day awards, Rochelle merchant's awarded prizes as follows: Clarence Oakes, $50.00; George Orner, $25.00; Mrs. William Wendt, $10.00; Mrs. Tony Dirsal, $10.00; Edward Crawford, $10.00; Mrs. George Liefheit, $10.00; Mrs. Glen Wilson, $10.00; Burton Knight, $5.00; Mrs. Sarah Henry, $5.00; Edward Crawford, $5.00; Elmer Bunker, $5.00; Mrs. Mary Vaile $5.00—$150.00 in all.

The next Opportunity Day is Wednesday afternoon, December 18th, with the final windup of the $650.00 in gold awards to be made at 9 o'clock on Christmas Eve.

"Happy Jack" or Igloo Jack, old Santa's Eskimo toyland workroom helper is scheduled to appear in the business section Saturday afternoon at 2:30 to distribute paper coins and inaugurate Rochelle's second window gift distribution. Youngsters are to be given preference and Rochelle merchants announce that double the number of gifts awarded a week ago will be given away Saturday.

The young people of the Flag Center church Sunday school are giving an oyster supper at the church Friday evening at 7:30. Everyone is invited.

Howard Morris, editor and publisher of the Rochelle Herald, who is dean of Ogle county editors, was guest of honor at a dinner party held at LaGrange, Sunday, to remind him of his 78th birthday. Relatives gathered to extend congratulations.

Mrs. Sam Garnhart of Stillman Valley was admitted to the Lincoln Hospital, Monday, for treatment.

Lucas Hayenga, who submitted to an operation at the Lincoln Hospital last week is making a satisfactory recovery.

Marie Schabacker had her tonsils removed at the hospital Monday.

Isabelle Anderson, of Chana, is a patient at the Lincoln Hospital, where she is convalescing from an operation performed Sunday.

Mrs. Grace Kirby, who was admitted Dec. 2 for treatment is convalescing nicely.

Tom Keegan, senior at Notre Dame University, is a member of the Notre Dame debating team which will debate the Purdue University team over WLS, Dec. 16 (Monday) from 7:30 to 8:20 P. M. on the subject, "Would the City People Rather Pay a Low Price For Produce, Than See the Farmer Prosper?" Notre Dame will uphold the affirmative side of the question.

LEAPED TO DEATH

Cleveland, O., Dec. 11.—(AP)—A man identified as James E. Naughton, Assistant Cashier of the U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Company, leaped to his death from the high level bridge here today. He plunged 110 feet downward to a pavement below.

Finders Are Keepers Found Faulty Adage

Milwaukee—(UP)—The old adage that finders are keepers does not apply here Leon Dixon discovered after picking up a $10 bill from the street.

Fred Darr had lost a $10 bill and was searching for it when he saw Dixon make the find. Dixon refused to give up the money and Darr started civil suit.

A judgment was obtained against Dixon when it was brought out that before findings are keepings it is necessary to advertise for the owner, to notify the county clerk and then wait a year. At the end of that time if the owner is not found the money may be divided evenly with the county treasury.

Students Fail In Facial Examination

Portland, Ore.—(UP)—"Scarface" Al Capone, former Chicago gangster, was named everything from Y. M. C. A. secretary to a member of Congress, while an Oklahoma lawyer was named a crook several times but never a lawyer by students of contemporary society course at Reed College here.

The students were given a list of stereotyped characters like banker, senator, crook, bolshevist and were shown a number of photographs without name or any mark which might hint of the person's identification or character.

Out of 406 possible guesses, 342 were given, of which only 47 were correct.

The Industrial league basketball schedule was formally opened before a large and enthusiastic assemblage in the fine new gymnasium at Dixon's high school last evening. The interest shown and the attendance forecasts the most successful season since the league was started a few years ago. Some of the best cage stars of former years are represented on the various teams, and the followers of this popular winter sport anticipate keen rivalry in this year's lineup. The Dixon Boys' band was on hand last evening and added to the spirit of the program by playing several numbers.

The first game of the evening saw the American Cab & Body company team lose to the lighter and much faster Illinois Northern Utilities five by a score of 14 to 13. The cab builders were slow and cautious in the first half and for a time it appeared that they were outclassed, when Broemer, a veteran of the cage sport, shot a long basket and then the cab builders began to open up in the second half and came near passing their opponents. The teams lined up as follows:

I. N. U. Co.—Hilliker, g; Florence, g; Lebre, c; Krug, f; Schertner, f.
Amer. Cab & Body Co.—Broemer, g; Stitzel, g; Weitzel, c; Cowley, f; Underwood, f.

Wiremakers Win
The Reynolds Wire Co. team started out in full blast and soon ran up a count of 16 points before their opponents, the Brown Shoe Co. could locate the hoop. In the second half the shoe makers opened up fast, charging game and ran up a count of 17 within a very short time. A number of substitutes had been sent in by the Reynolds squad in the second quarter, but the regulars were called back to finish the game. The final score was 22 to 10 in favor of the wire cloth makers.

Reynolds Wire Co.—Six, g; Kerz, g; Joyce, c; Johnson, f; Mercer, f.
Brown Shoe Co.—Kuhn, g; Barnfield, g; Hurless, c; Bain, f; Harms, f.

Attack Repulsed
Probably the best assemblage of former cage stars were represented on the Co. A, I. N. G. squad in their game against the Merchants, which

At War on Income Tax

Petitions said to represent more than a million persons, from all over the nation, figured in an anti-income tax demonstration in Washington, and here you see Senator Reed Smoot, chairman of the Senate finance committee, pledging his "most earnest efforts" to secure a reduction in the tax as he addressed a crowd from the capitol steps. At the right is Congressman Willis C. Hawley, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives. Numerous baskets, like the ones shown here, contained the petitions.

started out in walkaway style but necessitated the soldiers extending themselves in the final stage to prevent a lost battle. Practically all of the veterans who started in the first quarter and piled up a neat count left the floor in the second period. The Merchants were masters of the situation and soon tied the count, when one by one the reserve forces of the militia were dispatched to the front and the reinforcement saved the game which ended in a score of 17 to 16. The teams lined up as follows:

Co. A I. N. G.—Vapghan, g; Kennedy, f; Jones, g; Whitcombe, f; Place, c.
Merchants—Kinn, g; Pitney, g; Lahey, c; Miller, f; Suter, f.

Teams are Grateful
The members of the six squads are very grateful to Athletic Director Ayres, C. Bowers of the high school, who has made it possible to play the games in the new gymnasium. The league which has been in existence for several seasons, would have been forced to disband had not Director Bowers of the high school athletic association taken an interest in the winter basketball program and permitted the clubs to use the gymnasium. The success of the first round of the schedule will decide the future of the league, but judging from the attendance and interest demonstrated last evening, there is little doubt but that the venture will prove a big success.

A box of Visiting or Calling Cards will make an acceptable Xmas gift. B. F. Shaw Printing Co.

LEE CENTER ITEMS

Lee Center—Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Biesecker, accompanied by their daughter Mary Grace, motored to Chicago Sunday to see the new granddaughter, Glenna Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Biesecker. The Lee Center unit of the Home Bureau will hold a meeting Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. A. Ulrich, to effect an organization and elect officers. Members and others interested will please attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Depew entertained with a 6:30 turkey dinner Wednesday evening of last week in honor of the 21st birthday of Harry Lambert who makes his home with them. Card games were the diversion of the evening.

Abigail Rebekah lodge 759 elected officers last Friday evening as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coryell and family have moved to one of the Egan farms near Amboy. They will be greatly missed in this community.

Walter Taylor attended the second annual reunion and homecoming of the 131st infantry, 33rd division held in the Chicago Armory Saturday evening, Dec. 1 in honor of the 74th birthday of Major General Joseph B. Sanborn. The program included a band concert, mess call, regimental parade, one minute silence, invocation; also placing a wreath on the bronze memorial, presentation of memento to Gen. Sanborn, exhibition drill and formal guard mounting.

Gen. Sanborn cut a fine large birthday cake during the banquet. Walter was accompanied by his army pal, Earl Slagle of LaSalle, and they called on several "buddies" who are in business in Chicago.

The annual Community Christmas program, with tree, will be held in Woodman Hall Friday evening, Dec. 20 at 7:30. A program by the grade schools, under Misses Slaymaker and Plentle, will be given with several numbers by district schools in the vicinity. The church and lodges will provide treats for the children and a jovial Santa Claus will distribute the gifts.

Buffalo, N. Y.—(UP)—When Rose Ruddank was married recently to Charles Farber, her father, a baker, decided he'd let someone else bake the wedding cake and thus enjoy the occasion the more.

And it's lucky for him he did. Walter Cichocki, hired to do the job, turned out a cake weighing more than 200 pounds. It required 92 pounds of sugar, 36 pounds of butter, 360 eggs, 36 pounds frosting sugar and 26 pounds of flour.

TAX BOBBED HAIR

Paris—You can't make a woman do anything against her will, and the Swiss canton of Uri has found that that out. About a year ago it levied a tax of 12 cents on every female who had her hair bobbed. But not only did the women refuse to pay the tax; the majority of them got their hair bobbed in defiance of the law. There is now talk of lifting the

FIRST SCHOOL IN DIXON WAS BUILT IN '37

Building Was Paid For By Subscriptions Of Citizens

In the year 1837 the first school house was built here on the lot just east of the residence occupied by the late P. P. Starin which is located at the southeast corner of Crawford ave. and East Fourth street. The building was paid for by private subscriptions from the 13 families then living here.

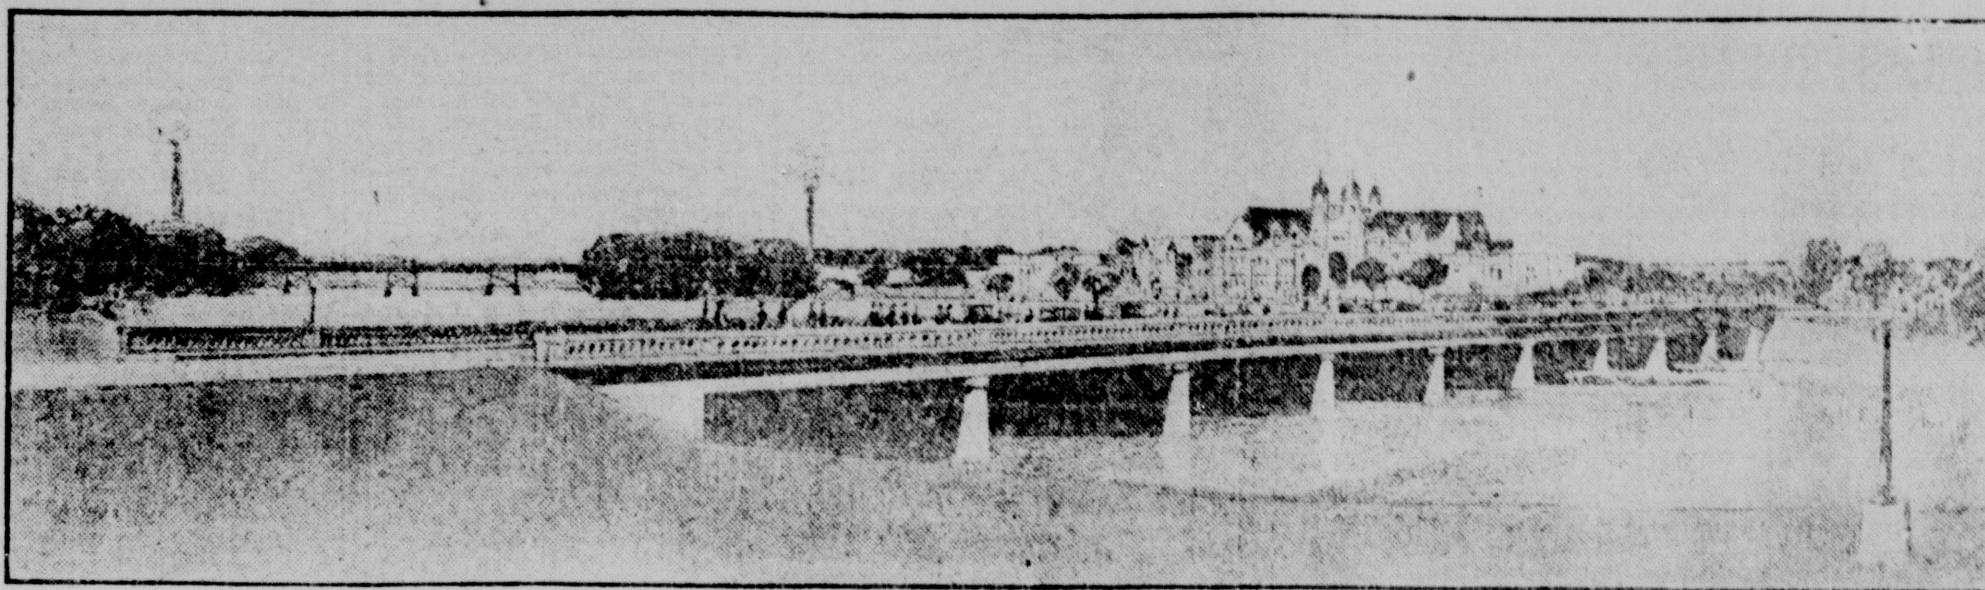

Subscriptions were also taken from several living some distance away and in the country. The list of subscribers was as follows: Jas. P. Dixon, $25; Oliver Everett, $25; John B. Barr, $10; Samuel Leonard, $5; Jacob Rue, $5; B. Brown, $5; Samuel Gatten, $5; Edwin Hine, $5; Elijah Dixon, $15; Hiram P. Parks, $10; John Q. Adams, 10 cents, (expunged); Seth D. Brittain, $20; (if he settles here); Lemuel Huff, $15; Alanson Dickerman, $5; John Snider, $5; H. Martin, $5; W. P. Burroughs, $15; John Dixon, $10; I. S. Boardman, $10; A. Friend, $5; McCabe, $10; Allen Wiley, $10; J. W. Hamilton, $5; George L. Chapman, $5; W. H. Rowe, $10; J. W. Dixon, $10; E. W. Covell, $25; E. Stata, $5; S. W. Johnson, $10; Robert Murry, $10; Samuel C. McClure, $15; Mrs. E. N. Hamilton, $15; Horace Thompson, $5; Mrs. R. Dixon, $20; L. D. Butler, $5; W. L. Dixon, $5; Mrs. A. Talmadge, $5; Mrs. M. H. Barr, $10; S. B. Bowman, $10; J. Murphy, $10; N. W. Brown, $5; John Richards, $10; C. F. Hubbard, $5; W. W. Graham, $5; T. L. Hubbard, $5; John Carr, $5; George Kip, $5; William Graham, $5.

Teacher Paid in Food
It will be noticed that the name of John Q. Adams, an unworthy bearer of that great name, in making his subscription put two zeroes where the dollars should have been, making his subscription but 10 cents. When his attention was called to it he said that was just as he intended. His name was therefore dealt with as was customary at that time. It was expunged.

The house was built in the summer of 1837. It was one story, 20x40 feet in size, and contained two rooms, 16x20 feet, serving as a vestibule and the other large room as a school room.

H. Bicknell taught this first school until about 1840. Then a Mr. Bowen taught for a short time and then William W. Heaton, who was later a circuit judge in this district.

The teacher's salary was paid from tuition which consisted chiefly of pork, corn, potatoes and fowls, etc. During the year of 1844 the lot on which the school stood was sold to one John Van Arman and he claimed the building and said he was going to keep it.

DIXON'S NEW HIGH SCHOOL AND NEW PEORIA AVENUE BRIDGE

Building Moved At Night
John Hogan instigated a scheme for the removal of the building. He was aided by such citizens as Aaron L. Porter, Judge Heaton and Nathaniel G. H. Morrill and others. During the night the building was moved a safe distance from the lot and saved for educational purposes. Finally this building was moved, according to the diary of Dr. Everett, to the corner of Hennepin avenue and First street, where the Trein jewelry store now stands, and was burned in the fire of 1838.

The school district, then as now, consisted of territory on both sides of the river. Later this was divided and two districts formed. Then about 16 years ago a vote was carried by which the two were again united.

The next school building to be built in Dixon was about 1830, a poorly constructed stone building on a lot at the rear of the Nachusa House. It was in this building that the late H. T. Noble taught for some time for the salary of $40 per month. The attendance kept growing and in the spring of 1852 the building was so crowded that a primary department was started in a room in the court house.

In 1853 the late William Barge took charge as instructor and continued until 1859. It was while he was teacher that the old stone building was deemed unfit for school purposes and the school was moved into the brick structure which is now a part of the home and office of Dr. Marion White on East Second street. This was soon outgrown and several public meetings were held and it was decided to build. This resulted in the erection of this Union school building on Peoria avenue at a cost of $5000. This was where the J. C. Ayres home is located.

It was during Mr. Barge's term as a teacher that the first graded school was organized.

First High School
In 1858 the first high school was established in the Methodist building and A. H. Fitch was elected principal. The following year A. M. Gow was employed as superintendent and James Gow as principal. The school then had five departments and an enrollment of 400. These gentlemen continued in charge until 1862 when Prof. E. C. Smith, one of the most efficient men ever in the Dixon schools took the command, laboring for 21 years. The enrollment continued to increase and rooms were rented for the several departments.

In 1867 it was decided to build to accommodate the needs of the city. By almost unanimous vote the directors were instructed to borrow $30,000 and erect the building which is known as the red brick and stands on Seventh street between Highland and Madison avenues. It is now used as a grade school. At that time this building was considered one of the finest in the state.

The following were the directors at this time: Henry D. Dement, James A. Hawley and David Welty. The first class graduated from the Dixon high school was in the year 1864 and were as follows: W. H. Boardman, C. A. Howell, Madge North Side School.

About the year of 1855 it became apparent that school facilities for the children on the north side of the river must be afforded, so it was started in the usual way by subscription. The building first used in the one now occupied as a home by Amos Bosworth facing Brinton Ave., between Chamberlain St. and Fellows St. At that time there were but three houses on the north side of the river. This was a two room school and by the year of 1860 it was outgrown and a primary department was erected on the same lot. The first teachers were Miss Campbell, later Mrs. Eugene Pinckney, Miss Blood, later Mrs. J. V. Thomas, and Col. Wood.

These schools became crowded and in 1863-69 the beautiful brick building now known and used as the North Central grade school was built at a cost of $20,000. The following were the first superintendents of the north side schools: I. H. Williams, 1859; W. S. Wood, N. J. Gilbert, J. A. Flagg, John V. Thomas, J. L. Hartwell, Julius Lloyd and C. O. Scudder.

In the year of 1880 the north side schools had an attendance of 160 pupils while the south side enrollment was 459, figures included both grades and high school.

Grade Schools Built.
The first grade school was built in the eighties and at intervals from that time as necessity required. At the present time there is the Wentworth, the Truman, the Loveland, in addition to the ones mentioned before.

Conditions became more crowded and in the year 1892 it was decided to build the White brick building at the corner of Fifth St. and Hennepin Ave. to be used as a high school. This building was used until 1906 when it burned soon after school had started one fall day. Fortunately the fire progressed slowly and there were no fatalities although the building was completely destroyed and made it necessary to rent all available buildings to carry on school work for the remainder of the year.

Steps were immediately taken to rebuild and as a result the high school that was vacated this week was built on the same site. This building will now be used for kindergarten and grades.

North Side Builds High.
The same conditions existed on the north side and more room was needed so it was decided to build a high school building and therefore the north side school for high school students was erected in the year 1900. This building will now be used for grade purposes.

The estimated cost of finishing the high school auditorium is $65,000. It is hoped that funds will be available for this in the near future but the school board plans to improve the old high school auditorium with new seats and a stage.

It was about 16 years ago that the two districts known as North Dixon and South Dixon school districts voted to unite and be known as Dixon school district.

HELD FOR GIRL'S DEATH
Chester, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Fred Lindner, 19, arrested at his home in Percy, Ill., yesterday, is held in the Randolph county jail here on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of his 17-year-old sweetheart, Mary Virgil Ashby who died Saturday.

Testimony at an inquest was that the girl died of an overdose of drugs and that she was an expectant mother. The jury ordered Lindner held but the verdict was suppressed pending his arrest. The girl was buried Monday dressed in the gown she had purchased for her wedding.

JOSEPH GRUNDY
NAMED SENATOR
BY PENNA. CHIEF

He Is Believer In a High Tariff: Sen. Nye is Against Him

BULLETIN

Washington, Dec. 12—(UP)—A resolution proposing to deny a seat to Joseph R. Grundy, new Pennsylvania Senator-designate, was prepared for introduction into the Senate today by Senator Gerald P. Nye, Republican, North Dakota.

The resolution cites that Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, who made the appointment, was involved in the $3,000,000 Pennsylvania primary election which caused the Senate to bar the winner of that primary, William S. Vare.

Nye proposed to present the resolution when Grundy offers his credentials of appointment later in the day.

Nye will not insist on preventing Grundy from taking the oath of office as was done in the Vare case. He will ask instead that his resolution be referred to the Senate Privileges and Elections committee. Pending a decision of that committee Grundy will be allowed to take his seat in accordance with the usual routine.

His credentials, however, are expected to be sent to the committee for investigation.

Washington, Dec. 12—(AP)—Joseph R. Grundy, in whose scheme of things a high protective tariff comes just after religion, today stood with in the ranks of the legislators of Capitol Hill, after a quarter of a century of intimate but unofficial association with them.

A veteran leader of behind-the-scenes politics and one of the nation's foremost exponents of high import duties on industrial commodities Grundy, a Republican, was designated by Governor Fisher of Pennsylvania to fill the seat in the Senate which the members of that body considered William S. Vare unqualified to hold.

Credentials were rushed to Washington by a special delegation in order that they might be permitted at the outset of today's session and the oath of office administered, giving to Pennsylvania its full quota of two Senators for the first time since March 4, 1927.

Opposition Develops
But opposition, however weak, was brewing. Senator Nye, Republican, South Dakota, was the author of a resolution framed to prevent Grundy's admission on virtually the same grounds that constituted the basis for Vare's exclusion, the circumstances of the Pennsylvania state primary campaign of 1928.

Most of those who were prominent in the fight against Vare, could see no valid objection to seating Grundy. His appointment they regarded as entirely legal, constitutional and one that must be honored. From all indications, Nye was decidedly on the losing side of the controversy.

Although Grundy has been content throughout a life time devoted largely to the advancement of the Republican party in both state and national affairs, he has been a familiar figure at the Capitol. There he is known variously as "Old Joe," "Uncle Joe," and sometimes as "The High Priest of Tariff Protection," depending upon the tariff views of the legislators supplying the pseudonym.

Just recently, testimony given before the Caraway lobby investigating committee brought him a prominent place in the headlines.

Youthful Cuist In His First Setback

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 12—(AP)—Marcel Camp, youthful Detroit cueist, suffered his first setback in the world's championship pocket billiard tournament at the Recreation Building last night. His failure to make an easy shot for the side pocket paved the way for Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn to win by 125 to 101 in 9 innings. Lauri made a run of 70, the highest in the tournament. In the fifth inning, but one inning later Camp went to the front again with a run of 48. Erin Rudolph of Chicago continued sensational playing by defeating Joseph J. McCann of Jacksonville, Fla. Frank Taberski, defending champion, defeated Spencer Livey, of Los Angeles, in the second afternoon game yesterday, 125 to 48, in 24 innings.

NOTICE.

SHORTER SEASON
FOR MAJORS NOW
SEEMS PROBABLE

Matter is Said To Be Up
To Presidents Of Organizations

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, Dec. 12—(AP)—The great battle of unbroken silences came to a climax today with a combined meeting of National American league baseball forces at the Biltmore. Even at this farewell conclave today, the most important item to the fans—the question of an earlier closing year—cannot be officially decided; some of the guard-house lawyers discovered that the two organizations place this matter entirely in the hands of the league presidents.

Since both John Heydler and Ernest Barnard are known to favor a closing in September, it is safe to presume that the next major league campaign will extend from Tuesday, April 15, through Sunday, September 28. Such a chart would provide for 163 possible playing days, an ample number with Boston playing Sunday baseball.

The chief matter before the joint meeting was another thing dear to Commissioner K. M. Landis—his project to require both major and minor league clubs to give official notice to baseball authorities upon acquiring control of a franchise in a smaller league. The commissioner, arch-enemy of chain-store ownership, believes that clubs purchasing lesser teams should be forced to notify the commissioner's office, the two major league headquarters and the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues.

The operation of such a rule would guide all clubs in organized baseball in their scouting activities. The rule could be beaten, of course, by secret working agreements, but the magnates will think twice before trying any such subterfuges. They remember what Commissioner Landis did last spring in the case of several transactions which he ruled irregular.

The question of broadcasting major league games also was on the agenda of the joint meeting today, with the chances favoring a retention of the present status—of leaving the matter up to each individual club to decide for itself.

Further deals or swaps of players remained in the air, the wholesale home-coming made possible by the two transactions yesterday was featured by the return of Grover Cleveland Alexander to the park where he won his major league spurs in 1911—Baker Bowl in Philadelphia. Old Alex the Great broke in eighteen years ago with twenty-eight victories.

No first-year man since has been able to approach such a mark.

The meetings of each individual league at the commodore ended yesterday with the terse bulletin: "all quiet on the baseball front."

The National League decided to ask the manufacturers of the official league ball whether the ball should be made without gloss. The senior major circuit last year had its umpires remove the gloss after the halfway post in the race had been reached. Anti-home run screens also were discussed, but no action was taken.

May Reduce Price
Of Games For Kids

Chicago, Dec. 12—(AP)—School children may be admitted for 25 cents each to all major league baseball games in 1930 excepting those played on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

At the suggestion of Keenaw Landis, Commissioner of Baseball, Alderman Thomas J. Bowler of Chicago was bound for the joint meeting of the majors at New York today with the plan of cut rate tickets for youngsters.

"The youngsters are losing interest in baseball because they can't pay high prices for tickets," Bowler said. "If the rate is cut to 25 cents for them, they will become interested in the game again."

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

© 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

I don't know what eaves-dropping means exactly. What do you call it when you cannot help hearing what people say and can't get away?

Both happened to me the other day yet I was glad of it because I had a real thrill. I wouldn't have missed a bit of rare training a certain mother was giving her boy, for a couple of years.

She was having something done in one of those booths where they bob you and wash you and wave you. I was in the one next door.

I didn't need another view of three pairs of woolen-stockinged shanks to know that she had company—young masculine company with ruddy complexions and gorgeous tow heads. I couldn't see the complexions and heads—not then—but I had seen them when they came in.

The boys had evidently met her after school somewhere and here they all were helping mother to be beautified.

Given An Errand

"Lane, I wish you'd do something for me," she said presently.

"Yes, mother."

"I'll be here for about 45 minutes and there's an errand I want you to do for me in East Liberty."

"East Liberty?"

"Yes, I want you to get me a package. You know where Reynier's is on Penn Avenue? Oh, yes you do! Well, there's an alley right near. Go through that until you come out on Center Avenue. Go to Miss Lucy's shop there—you'll see her name on the window—and ask her for Mrs. D's package. Wait—get me a paper and I'll draw it for you. Then you'll know just where you are."

"I'll take a good while. Can I get Ray to drive me out?"

"No, Ray had to take the car to be fixed. He won't be back for an hour. You'll have to take a bus."

"What bus? Where? I don't know anything about buses."

"Right around the corner by the Diamond Bank, at the corner of Liberty and Fifth—you'll find it. Are you listening? If you can't find it, ask someone. You can take that or another one on the next corner. The policeman will tell you."

"Here's the money for your fare. If you don't waste time you can be back in 45 or 50 minutes. I'll be ready by that time and Ray will be back. Then we'll get Dad and go home. Now run along. Listen to this carefully. Look at me. Watch the traffic! Now good-bye."

Lessons in Reliance

I heard Lane depart. His mother said to the girl who was waving her, "I often give them things to do like that. They're always afraid they can't do it right, but they never let me down yet. If Lane does that errand he'll be so proud of himself the house won't hold him."

"How old is he?"

"Ten."

"Mercy! I live with my sister and she has a boy—ten. Why she's worried if he goes two blocks out of his regular path to school."

I thought of all the children I knew whose mothers felt the same way.

This is the right kind of independence Mrs. D. is teaching her boys. Give them things just a little beyond their idea of what they can do. Not always risky, but often hard.

Think of the things it develops.

Success As Farmer Aids Woman Banker

Booneville, Ark. —(AP)—The only woman bank president in Arkansas thinks that the simple rules of business she employed to make her farm a success have helped her along in the banking business.

Entering the business world at a time when woman's place generally was thought to be in the home, Mrs. Mattie Edwards, head of the Farmers and Merchants National bank here, is regarded as one of the best bankers in the state.

Widowed 30 years ago with three small children, Mrs. Edwards, now 60, assumed management of the Edwards farm near here. She made the farm pay dividends. In 1910, through a bank reorganization, she became assistant cashier and vice president.

In 1921 she was chosen president, resigned in 1924 but was called back to the presidency a year later. She has held it since.

COLORS GIVE ADDED CHARM TO GIFTS OF COSMETICS.

Cosmetics, colorful as they are in themselves, have been given new color for Christmas time, according to the beauty editor of Farm & Fireside.

"Perhaps you would not think of sending a friend a box of cleansing tissues for Christmas," she says, "but three or four boxes in pale yellow, pink or green make a charming gift. Twelve little cakes of varicolored guest-size soap come in geranium, hyacinth, lilac, lime, pine and violet odors, packed charmingly in a box.

"Stunning rouge or powder compacts and also lipsticks may be had in almost any color to carry out the costume ensemble. A brilliant red or a soft green fits well into the Christmas color scheme."

Perfumes and cosmetics in colorful boxes are especially appreciated by convalescents or shut-ins, declares the beauty expert.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS.

APPETIZING TEA.—For chilly afternoons nothing is nicer than a steaming cup of tea with a bit of mint in it. You can use dried mint or you can raise a little sprig or two of it in a sunny window in an ordinary flower pot.

SUIT-CASE PACKER.—When packing week-end suitcases, if you use corrugated paper to hold your most fragile garments, they will emerge at the end of the trip wrinkleless and fresh—if you are careful, that is, to pack carefully.

CLEAN TUB.—If you use a cloth wrung out of water to which a little kerosene has been added, it will keep the bath tub shining.

CLOTHES SAVINGS.—If you mend your clothes before they go to the laundry they will last twice as long. It takes no longer.

TIME SAVERS.—If you keep a package of sticker-labels near at hand and mark clearly everything you put away, like boxes of Thanksgiving trimmings or Christmas ribbons, it will save lots of time when you look for them again.

COLOR QUESTION.—When children continue to get their towels and wash rags in the bathroom mixed up with each others' and their parents, an excellent idea is to lay sets in different colors, giving each child his choice. You might even match up Tom, Mary and Elsie's toothbrush and their linen and they never will get mixed up again.

STAINLESS SHEARS.—Stainless kitchen shears are now on the market and are a boon to the housewife who uses them constantly for cutting vegetables, fruits, fish and other foods.

SIFTING TIME.—The time to sift flour is before measuring, not after. Sometimes flour gets so packed down in the bin that, unless sifted, a cupful of it is nearer a cup and a half.

TWO EGG-BEATERS.—Having two egg-beaters is a small expense but a huge timesaver. Cakes, pies and puddings that use both yolks and whites beaten can be made much more quickly with two beaters to use.

FASHION HINTS.

WRINKLED GLOVES.—The suit and coat now ask for three button to six button gloves. Beige, soft grey and black are smart shades. White is good for dress. Evening asks for pink ones, usually suede. All are worn wrinkled down to wrists.

VELVET HAT.—Very autumn looking is a flaring brimmed hat of golden brown that uses seven shades of beige, brown and red in striped effect to fashion its crown. A tiny bow in the back is of the reddest shade.

SPORTS
OF ALL SORTSIOWA MOVES TO REGAIN PLACE
IN CONFERENCETwenty-Two Athletes Are Declared Ineligible
By Board

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 12.—(AP)—altering its conviction that the proper field of athletic competition for the University of Iowa lies in the Western Conference, the Iowa board in control of athletics last night declared ineligible 22 athletes and renewed its battle for conference reinstatement. The charges against the athletes were that they aided from the now famous rust fund.

The list of athletes was not made public, but it was known that five football players, Mike Farroh of Michigan City, Ind., elected co-captain of the 1930 eleven last night; Dan Pape, Dubuque; Pete Affre, Quincy, Ill.; Irving Nelson, Omaha, and Seward Leeka, Independence, Mo., were on the list.

Nelson, Farroh and Leeka are also regulars on the basketball team. The board which met in the afternoon and continued in session until midnight, drafted a resolution inviting the conference to "send a committee to Iowa City within the next future to review the situation and the purpose of ascertaining whether essential justice due these men may not warrant their reinstatement."

Gives Conference Power
The resolution was in fact a waiver of the right of the individual school to act finally on the eligibility of its athletes, giving to the conference the authority to reverse the eligibility rulings of any member institution. While yielding this right, the board also asserted its "sovereign jurisdiction" of the staff and administrative organization at the university, thereby upholding its right to retain George T. Bresnahan as track coach despite the disapproval of the conference. Dean C. C. Williams said a thorough investigation would begin at once into the cases of each of the 22 suspended athletes.

The board in its resolution placed the blame for the troubles of the athletes on "an irregularity of a past athletic administration." It further stated that it felt "it was not fair or just to the individual athlete to penalize him for the innocent participation" in the trust fund, which had received official sanction at the time of its existence.

Called Coaching Staff
The Hawkeye coaching staff was called into the board session for a time, an extraordinary procedure, presumably for discussion of booking games.

Iowa clinched at least two contests for the 1930 season during the day. One game, with Penn State November 15, will be played either here or at Soldier Field, Chicago. The other is the first on a four game contract with the University of Nebraska, to be played here November 22.

Representations to the University of California for a game here October 15 were refused because of lack of an open date on the coast team's schedule. Baylor University of Texas and Detroit University were also invited to play Iowa, Baylor here November 4 or 11, and Detroit there Nov. 1.

The renewal of the fight for reinstatement in the Big Ten apparently exploded rumors yesterday that a new conference was being considered comprising the universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

EVIDENCE DESIRED
Chicago, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Critics of the Western Conference have been invited to produce whatever evidence they claim to have on subsidizing and proselytizing of athletes, or to stop "whispering, gossiping and scandalizing."

Major John L. Griffith, Athletic Commissioner of the Conference which severed athletic relations with the University of Iowa on similar charges, said his organization would investigate every charge and promise swift action if it was needed.

"If anyone has information that any member of the Western Conference or any alumnus of any conference school is conspiring to or violating conference rules, let him come to us with his information. We will investigate it thoroughly and in confidence. Anyone who is a friend of clean athletics will do that. Those opposed to clean athletics will whisper and gossip about it. It's time for the gossipers to stop gossiping."

Major Griffith said the number of persons connected directly or indirectly with Western Conference schools, who will cut corners to help their teams win games, is surprisingly small.

"There are about 300,000 alumni of Western Conference schools, about 100,000 students and about 200 assistants to athletics directors," Major Griffith said. "Yet, I doubt if there are a score among them all who are willing to cut corners to help their respective teams play winning foot-

Bowling News

The Underworlds are still undefeated in the class B bowling league at the Pastime alleys and last night increased their lead by taking three straight games from the Highway bowlers. Becker with 203 rolled high singles and his 559 total stood up for high total score. The Walnut Grove Products team defeated Covert's Coffee Shop three games. Slothower was high individual with 222 pins and his score of 582 pins for the series set a new record high mark for the season. Ashton won two out of three games from Shawger's Cross being high individual with 201 and Sunday, high for the series with 509. Next Monday evening the Underworlds meet Shawger's team. ## Consider Three For Washington's Coach

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 12.—(AP)—A dispatch to the Seattle Times from its sports editor, George Varnell, says that Jimmy Phelan of Purdue, Clarence Spears of Minnesota and Bert Ingwersen of Iowa are being considered for the vacant University of Washington football coaching post.

Varnell is accompanying Earl Campbell, Washington graduate manager, from Chicago to Seattle. The dispatch was sent yesterday from Bismark, S. D.

Announced of a final selection will be made within a week, Varnell said.

GRIDIRON NEWS

Hamilton, N. Y., Dec. 12.—(AP)—The best an eastern football team invading the Pacific coast can expect is per cent the worst of it, according to Andy Kerr, Colgate coach, who also has charge of organizing the east team for the annual charity game with the best at San Francisco for the Shriner Hospital for crippled children.

"Look out there and you'll see the reason," said Kerr pointing to Whitnall Field, the Colgate gridiron. "That field is frozen as hard as a rock and is as slippery as a mill pond. It is the same in any other section of the east or middle west. You can't hold practice on a field like that. Why you can't even walk on it without slipping."

On the coast it is different. They have fine football weather through New Year's. You can work them as hard as you want without incurring any injury risk. The difference in the weather conditions and training facilities amounts to at least 20 per cent advantage for the coast team.

The trip across the continent is no handicap either way in Kerr's opinion. "It may be a bore in some respects, but it is also restful," he explained.

"In good weather, the western eleven is at no disadvantage coming east but would be heavily handicapped in rain or snow or extreme cold," Kerr declares.

"They don't have any of that November weather out there and they'd be lost if they struck it here. During

New Manager For Chicago Stadium

Chicago, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Upon the shoulders of John F. Bowman of Chicago, who gained a wide reputation for putting over big conventions, today rested the task of changing figures in the Chicago Stadium Corporation books from red to blue.

Directors of the corporation, which operates the huge $7,000,000 west side sports and exposition building, selected Bowman general manager last night. He fills the position which Patrick "Paddy" Harmon held before he was ousted by discontented stockholders and directors.

While the Stadium has been making some money on boxing shows since it was opened last spring, it has lost considerable because of the failure to land expositions and conventions. The directors believe Bowman will be able to swing that business to the Stadium and his efforts will be largely devoted to that field. Nate Lewis, matchmaker, and Sidney Strotz, secretary and treasurer, will handle most of the boxing show promotion.

Stadium directors today refused to comment on reports that Harmon, who conceived and built the stadium, was recruiting help among stockholders for a controlling interest in the corporation. Harmon, who claims to own more than 40 per cent of the stock, has indicated he would fight to regain control, the presidency and general management. Sheldon Clark, Chicago sportsman, succeeded him as President.

TO HEAD GOLF ASSN.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Leslie S. Gordon of the Indiana Hills Country Club, Chicago, is slated for election to the presidency of the Western Golf Association tonight.

The association will hold its annual meeting, elect officers and discuss courses and dates for 1930 tournaments. Gordon is to succeed Robert M. Cutting of Chicago.

...Cut Your
Cold Weather
MOTORING
Costs...

Don't let cold weather boost your gasoline bill this winter. Use high test Paramount and save money on motor fuel.

Paramount is the ideal winter gasoline. It starts quickly and burns completely, thereby eliminating waste. And because it is so powerful, you can drive all winter with your carburetor adjusted for a "lean" mixture.

Start cutting your motoring costs now by using high test Paramount. You can get it at Smith pumps and stations throughout northern Illinois.

NATIONALISTS WON A VICTORY AROUND CANTON

Rebels are Defeated in Hard Battle at City Gates

Shanghai, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Reports of a Nationalist victory over southern rebels in sanguinary fighting at the gates of Canton shared attention here today with information that the government is making strong efforts toward conciliation of rebellious factions in other areas where the fighting has slackened.

A message from Canton this morning asserted that yesterday's victory by government forces over the rebelling "Ironsides" division just outside the city was much greater than at first believed. An attack by Kwangsi rebels along the West river also was repulsed, said the report.

The message said it was believed that fully half the attacking "Ironsides" force was included in the casualties or among the captured.

The division, under command of General Chang Fak-Wei, was said to be still in retreat.

News of the victory halted the exodus of civilians from Canton. Nationalist government Central Bank notes, which slumped sharply in value as a result of the "Ironsides" thrust, returned to par.

Fighting yesterday was reported continuing in Honan and Anhwei provinces and at a point 50 miles north of Nanking, where loyal troops met the Pukow mutineers.

British Evacuated Rhineland District

Weisbaden, Germany, Dec. 12.—(UP)—The Union Jack, which floated above the Hohenzollern hotel during British occupation of Rhine territory, was lowered at 2 P. M. today. The lowering of the flag announced the end of 11 years' British occupation of the Rhineland.

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.
Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.
Every morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.
Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.
At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.
Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at Sterling's Pharmacy or any drug store (lasts 2 months) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back—Adv.

FINAL SPECIAL ASSESSMENT.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Dixon, Illinois, and its members, caused to be filed in the office of the County Clerk of Lee County, Illinois, on the 11th day of December, A. D. 1929, a certificate showing the final cost of constructing a Sanitary Sewer on Harrison Avenue, all in said City of Dixon, under Local Improvement Ordinance No. 250, Series of 1929, and the amount estimated by said Board of Local Improvements and its members to be required to meet the accruing interest on bonds and vouchers issued to anticipate the collection of the tax and the necessary expenses of the work.

Said certificate also shows that said work has been done and completed in substantial conformity to the requirements of said ordinance and has been duly accepted by the Board and its members.

The final cost of said improvement and the amount estimated for interest as shown in the certificate are as follows:

253 lin. ft. 8" sewer @ $130 = $32,890;

126 lin. ft. 6" laterals @ $75 = $9,450;

1 manhole @ $68.00 = $68.00; Total cost of work done—$42,390; lawful expense 6% of estimate—$2,543.94; engineering including inspection—$250.00; Total cost of improvement—$45,183.94.

Total amount of assessment—$550.00.

Public notice is further given that said Court has set said Certificate and any objections that may be filed for hearing at nine o'clock, the 31st day of December, A. D. 1929, before the Honorable Judge of said Court, and that any person interested may file objections to said Certificate at said hearing and show cause why said petition shall not be taken as true.

Dated at Dixon, Illinois, this 11th day of December, A. D. 1929.

The Board of Local Improvements of the City of Dixon, Illinois, and its Members.

KONJOLA FREES CLINTON LADY FROM AILMENTS

Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained from New and Different Medicine.

MRS. LILLIAN EVANS.

"I consider it my duty to tell others about Konjola," said Mrs. Lillian Evans, 320 Van Buren Street, Clinton. "I had many ailments. Gas formed in my stomach after eating and my heart was affected. My kidneys were weak and I had severe back pains. My hands and feet became swollen. My liver did not function and I was subject to biliousness and dizzy spells. Constipation bothered me constantly and I was completely discouraged.

"Konjola went right to work upon my ills. I had not taken this medicine long before my stomach weakness cleared up entirely. I never suffer after eating now. My kidneys are strong and healthy and I no longer suffer from back pains. My liver and bowels are normal and constipation and those frequent dizzy spells are no longer felt. I eat heartily and am gaining in health and strength. All thanks to Konjola.

Konjola is sold in Dixon at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 West First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

WALES AND HIS YOUNG BROTHER 'AIR-CONSCIOUS'

Two Princes Plan to Fly as Much as Possible This Winter

London.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales and his younger brother, Prince George, plan to devote as much time as possible to flying during the winter.

The heir to the British throne, who has qualified for his "A" and "B" pilot's certificates, has spent more than 200 hours in the air. Prince George, who is learning to pilot a machine with the intention of winning a pilot's license has more than 150 hours flying to his credit.

To insure comfort during the cold weather, the Prince of Wales has had a heating outfit installed in the airplane which he purchased last summer for his private use. The heater operates from the exhaust. The tubes are collected in a series of tubes, pass through a filter and circulate around the two cockpits.

The Prince has arranged to receive weather forecasts from the Air Ministry during the winter months.

The Prince's plane, which bears the registration marks, G. A. A. L. G., carries perhaps more "gadgets" than any other plane in the world. There are specially constructed compartments for his luggage and that of his pilot, a receptacle for his walking sticks and golf clubs and a special head rest behind which he can store his hats, gloves and overcoat.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, formerly of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, is struggling to death.

BONNIE DUNDEE, "crazy" detective, assists POLICE CHIEF STRAWN, EMIL SEVIER, former boarder whom Mrs. Hogarth accused of trying to rob her, is sought.

CORA BARKER, boarder, thought to have had an affair with Sevier, is arrested as a material witness but is out on bail. Other boarders under suspicion are HENRY DOWD, NORMA PATRICK, WALTER SYLVESTER, and a man who had quarreled with Mrs. Hogarth, HERT MAGNUS, assistant bookkeeper, who was heard typing in his room until 12:15, and DANNY SHEPHERD.

Dundee learns from papers in Mrs. Hogarth's trunk that the SALLY GRAVES who wrote her once a month was her daughter, and that she lived in dread of Sally's husband, DAN GRIFFIN, sought for embezzlement. Dundee, realizing the mysterious details of Sally's murder in New York June 2, concludes Dan murdered both women and that he is or has been living at the Rhodes House.

An old rail-trick envelope with Dundee's name on it, showing he left New York June 3, increases suspicion against him. Sevier declares killing the woman and implicates Cora. Dundee goes for Cora and finds her dead, strangled with her hair braids. At the request Magnus tells the love between him and Cora and of her fear that Sevier would seek revenge for what she had killed. Sevier is being quizzed when a girl dashes in. She confesses she hid Sevier and insists he did not kill Cora Barker.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII

"PLEASE tell the jury, Miss Cannon, how you know Emil Sevier did not kill Cora Barker," Dr. Price instructed the weeping girl quietly.

Above the scratch of pencils and the frantic shuffling of papers at the press table, the girl's voice rose triumphantly:

"Because Daddy and I followed him in the car until he was picked up by two policemen!"

"You kept him in sight all the time?" Dr. Price asked.

"Every single minute!" Myra Cannon cried. "He'd promised Daddy to go straight to police headquarters, and Daddy told me he was going to make sure he gave himself up that night. Emil didn't know we were following him, and he just walked around and leaned against buildings and lamp posts, as if he was awful sick."

"I knew he was scared to death that the police wouldn't believe him, and I wouldn't let Daddy get out of the car and jerk him along to police headquarters, as he kept threatening to do. Finally, it seemed like years, and Daddy was getting madder all the time—a policeman saw Emil and Emil started to run, then the policeman yelled out, 'Stop, Sevier, or I'll shoot!' and Emil stopped and let himself be arrested, and Daddy drove back to Mercyville just as fast as he could. And then—then this morning the papers said Cora Barker had been strangled, too, and that poor Emil was being 'killed' by the police, and—I couldn't stand it and I made Daddy bring me here!"

"And so," Dundee said to him self, "that's that!" But there was no such defection in his face as that which had settled upon Lieutenant Strawn and Sergeant Turner.

Five minutes later George H.

Cannon, rich and highly respected citizen of Mercyville, was testifying:

"What my daughter says is true. God knows I have no love for that—that man," and he jerked his head contemptuously toward Sevier, who sat with his face bowed upon his hands. "But I cannot withhold evidence. I discovered Sevier upon my premises at half past eleven last night. I drove him and my daughter in my car to Hamilton, putting Sevier out at the corner of First and Chestnut. If you wish, I can draw you an approximate diagram of the course Sevier took as he wandered about the streets, and as my daughter and I followed him in the car."

"That will not be necessary at this time, Mr. Cannon," Dr. Price replied. "You are ready to swear, however, that from a quarter to one, when you discharged your passenger, until a few minutes after two, when he was picked up by police, he was not out of your sight?"

"I can—and do," Cannon answered grimly. "He could not have murdered the Barker woman, since he was no nearer the Rhodes House than Eighth and Main."

"You are familiar with the streets of Hamilton?"

"I lived here until five years ago, and I am in the city frequently on business."

"Thank you. . . . Now, Mr. Cannon, did Mr. Sevier make any confession to you regarding the murder of Mrs. Hogarth?"

"He did not. On the contrary, he denied it a great many times, for I myself accused him," the witness answered positively. "However, I believe—"

"I am afraid a statement of your belief cannot be admitted into the inquest record," Dr. Price interrupted courteously. "Excused—with the thanks of the jury, Mr. Cannon."

Half an hour later—it was nearly six o'clock—Bonnie Dundee entered Lieutenant Strawn's office at police headquarters. His chief and Sergeant Turner were slumped in chairs at the lieutenant's desk—each a study in profound dejection.

"Grip, damn you!" Strawn growled, as his newest detective greeted him. "Go on—say it—I told you so!" He spat gloomily, then sat more erectly. "Well, anyhow, we got one verdict against Sevier. He'll be indicted by the grand jury on Monday."

"Do you really think, chief, that the grand jury will be so stupid as the coroner's jury?" Dundee asked pleasantly, as he seated himself in the open window. "I see you haven't any screens, either, chief. Still, your windows are nicely barred. Now if the Rhodes House screens had been put up on Monday, as Dusty promised they would be—"

"What do you mean—the grand jury stupid?" Strawn growled angrily.

"Why, surely, unless the grand jury is stupid, or unless our district attorney is, it will be quite plain to them, after mature deliberation, that if Emil Sevier didn't kill Cora Barker he likewise didn't kill Mrs. Hogarth. In fact, the grand jury will think the coroner's jury incredibly stupid not to have rendered the same verdict on the Hogarth murder as upon Cora Barker's: 'Death at the hand of person or persons unknown. For the same hands that strangled Mrs. Hogarth tied Cora's braids about her throat. One crime grew out of the other.'"

"Hunk!" Sergeant Turner snorted. "Thought you said Cora was 'killed with a kiss'! How many sweeties did that dame have, anyway? She'd been carrying on with Sevier, she'd just got herself half-way engaged to this Magnus chap last night—"

"And Magnus has an alibi for last Saturday night. He could not have killed Mrs. Hogarth, then Sevier could have killed Cora," Strawn cut in disgustedly.

"WOMEN have been known to kill other women—and Cora didn't take the trouble to put on a kimono," Dundee contributed, very thoughtfully.

"What do you mean?" Strawn crashed his tilted chair to the floor. "I thought you'd come in here crowing about your 'bad penny,' and now you've switched around to a woman?"

"I haven't forgotten about my 'bad penny,' but—I'm trying to consider every possibility," Dundee answered soberly. "And I'm not so sure that what I said just now was true—that the same hands strangled both women, but I do believe that the second crime grew out of the first."

"And me—I'm not so sure of that," Strawn retorted stubbornly. "Were any of the other girls at the Rhodes House jealous of Bert Magnus' attentions to Cora? If all that love-talk took place at the piano last night, I guess everybody in the room got wise to what was going on."

A half-dozen little, unexplained things that Jewel Briggs had said, flashed into Dundee's mind. For a tantalizing moment he felt that the solution of both murders was on the very threshold of his mind, knocking for admission. Then the conviction was lost. He shook his head hopelessly.

"Jewel Briggs was watching the progress of Bert's affair with Cora with much interest," he admitted slowly.

"And Jewel Briggs was spending the week-end with her folks when Mrs. Hogarth was murdered," Strawn pointed out wearily.

"Look!" Strawn urged. "You say Cora was murdered by the same person that killed Mrs. Hogarth. Why?"

"Because the two crimes must be connected," Dundee retorted.

"Yeah? Well, the only person Cora suspected or had said one word against was Emil Sevier. Far as I can see, Sevier was the only person connected with Mrs. Hogarth's murder that had any cause to bump off Cora—and he didn't do it!"

"I KNOW!" Dundee agreed, shrugging. "But look, chief! Here we have three murders, all committed within a month of each other, and you expect me to agree with you that they are coincidences—that Sally Graves, as she called herself, was murdered by one person; her mother by another, and poor Cora by still another!"

"And what do you think?" Strawn taunted him wearily. "You think that 'bad penny' turned up once more, do you?"

"Yes, I do!" Dundee jumped to his feet, an almost fanatical light in his eyes. "I believe Dan Griffin murdered his wife and his mother-in-law and that he killed Cora Barker because he was sure she knew something against him, or—Wait! Suppose Dan Griffin sneaked back to the Rhodes House last night to make another search of Mrs. Hogarth's room. Trust him to know it was no longer guarded by the police! Suppose Cora Barker heard a step on the porch and ran to her window in her nightgown to investigate. Suppose she looked out, he seized her and kissed her against her will, trying her braids as he did so. If she did see him he would have no choice but to kill her to keep her from giving the alarm."

"And why would he be coming back to Mrs. Hogarth's room?" Sergeant Turner demanded sarcastically.

"To look for the money he failed to find that night!" Dundee retorted. "Suppose a 'little more'! Suppose he fled from Mrs. Hogarth's room Saturday night before he succeeded in finding the money, because he heard Cora knocking. The papers have made no secret of the fact that any money the old lady had in her room was not found by the police after her murder. If Dan Griffin had reason to believe she had the money he stole from the bank, he might risk anything to go back and look for it—with some hunch of his own as to where it was hidden."

"There's just one little flaw in that pretty yarn," Strawn interrupted. "Sevier didn't see any body else while he was hanging around waiting for Cora, and he was climbing up the rose trellis himself just about the time Cora was knocking on the old lady's door—that is, if he and Cora are telling the truth. Believe me, if Sevier had seen or heard anyone he'd have been

MAN BRUSHES HIS TEETH
By C. N. JOHNSON,
L. D. S., D. D. S.,
Chicago, Illinois.

Editor of the Journal of the American Dental Assn.
(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Barbaric man did not brush his teeth; why is civilized man obliged to do it? (That is, he is obliged to it if he is to save his teeth and to preserve the deencies of modern life.) Simply because barbaric man lived on coarse simple diet that compelled vigorous mastication and this produced friction over the surfaces of the enamel. Stop and think what that means.

1. The teeth get no such scrubbing in our modern methods of mastication, or rather our lack of mastication, and thus if they are to be presentable in appearance they must be brushed to remove the particles of food and other materials that cling to them, causing discoloration and unsightliness. The brushing also prevents the lodgment of foreign matter that brings about decay of the teeth.

2. In many mouths there is a tendency for the accumulation of calcareous deposits on the teeth called tartar, and if this allowed to remain it encroaches on the gum tissue and irritates it till it becomes absorbed and the teeth loosen. It is estimated that there are more teeth lost from diseases of the supporting structures of the teeth than from the formation of cavities in the teeth themselves.

3. There still remains another factor concerned in our inadequate mastication. The gums, the membranes, and the bone around the roots of the teeth were all built on the principle of receiving usage in the process of mastication, and when this function is not properly performed these structures naturally deteriorate and lose their tone. Any structure that is not used in the reasonable exercise of its normal function begins to atrophy and become useless. A broken arm tied up and kept out of use for a time gets smaller and weaker. Not till function is restored and the arm is exercised does it resume its normal size and efficiency. The same principle holds true of the structures around the teeth, and unless something is done to compensate for the lack of mastication it is only a question of time when deterioration of these tissues takes place.

This is why civilized man must use the toothbrush if he is to keep his teeth, and it is just as important to brush the gums as it is to brush the teeth. They need this massage to take the place of the vigorous friction of food which barbaric man gave them in mastication. But the teeth must be used properly or it will do harm. The gums should be brushed toward the teeth, not away from them; that is the upper gums should be brushed downward and the lower gums upward. If the brush is used in this way, the oftener and the more vigorously it is used the better, but if it is used too much in a crosswise manner it will force the gums away from the teeth, and injure them.

Then, a parting word. After you have done your best brushing at least twice a day for six months, go to your dentist and have him check upon the results. If you do not have that semi-annual check-up of your mouth your are missing comfort and taking chances, in the long run, of also missing some valuable teeth.

Checkers Victim, 80, Routs Young Bandit

Orange, Cal.—(UP)—G. M. Bay, local dairyman, is well past 80 years of age, but the other night he was not inclined to be the genial old gentleman his neighbors know.

Bay had just lost a game of checkers to one of his old-time chums and on the way home a bandit made the mistake of accosting him. Bay went into action and the highwayman fled, with Bay, despite his years, in hot pursuit. He failed to get his man, but did get the license number of the man's car and immediately notified the police.

After tracing the number, the officers went to the alleged highwayman's home and knocked at the door. The man was observed slipping out of a side window in his underclothing, climbed over a fence and disappeared. Orange police request that anyone knowing the whereabouts of a man dressed only in his nether garments notify them immediately.
